SUSIE BERNSTEIN

"Such laboured nothings, in so strange a style; Amaze th'unlearn'd, and make the learned smile."

ALEXANDER POPE

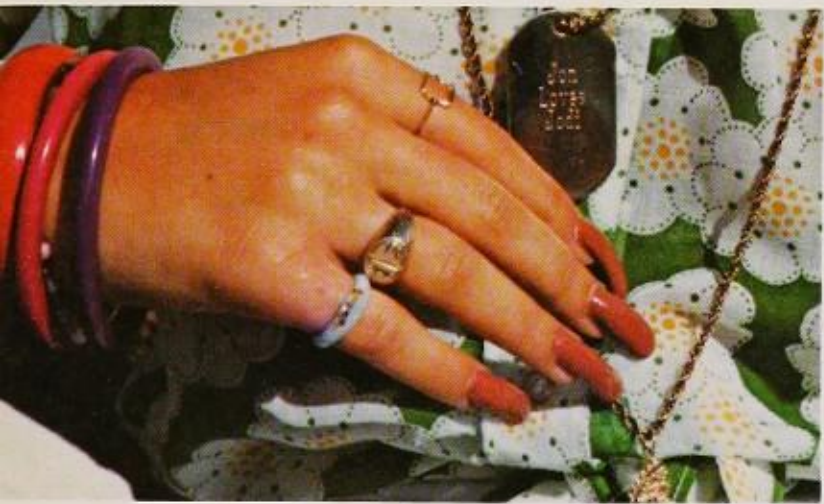

STYLE. What is style? It's undefinable but every generation has its own distinctive style. Twenty years from now we'll try to remember just what it was that characterized our youth. A camera can capture those memories . . .

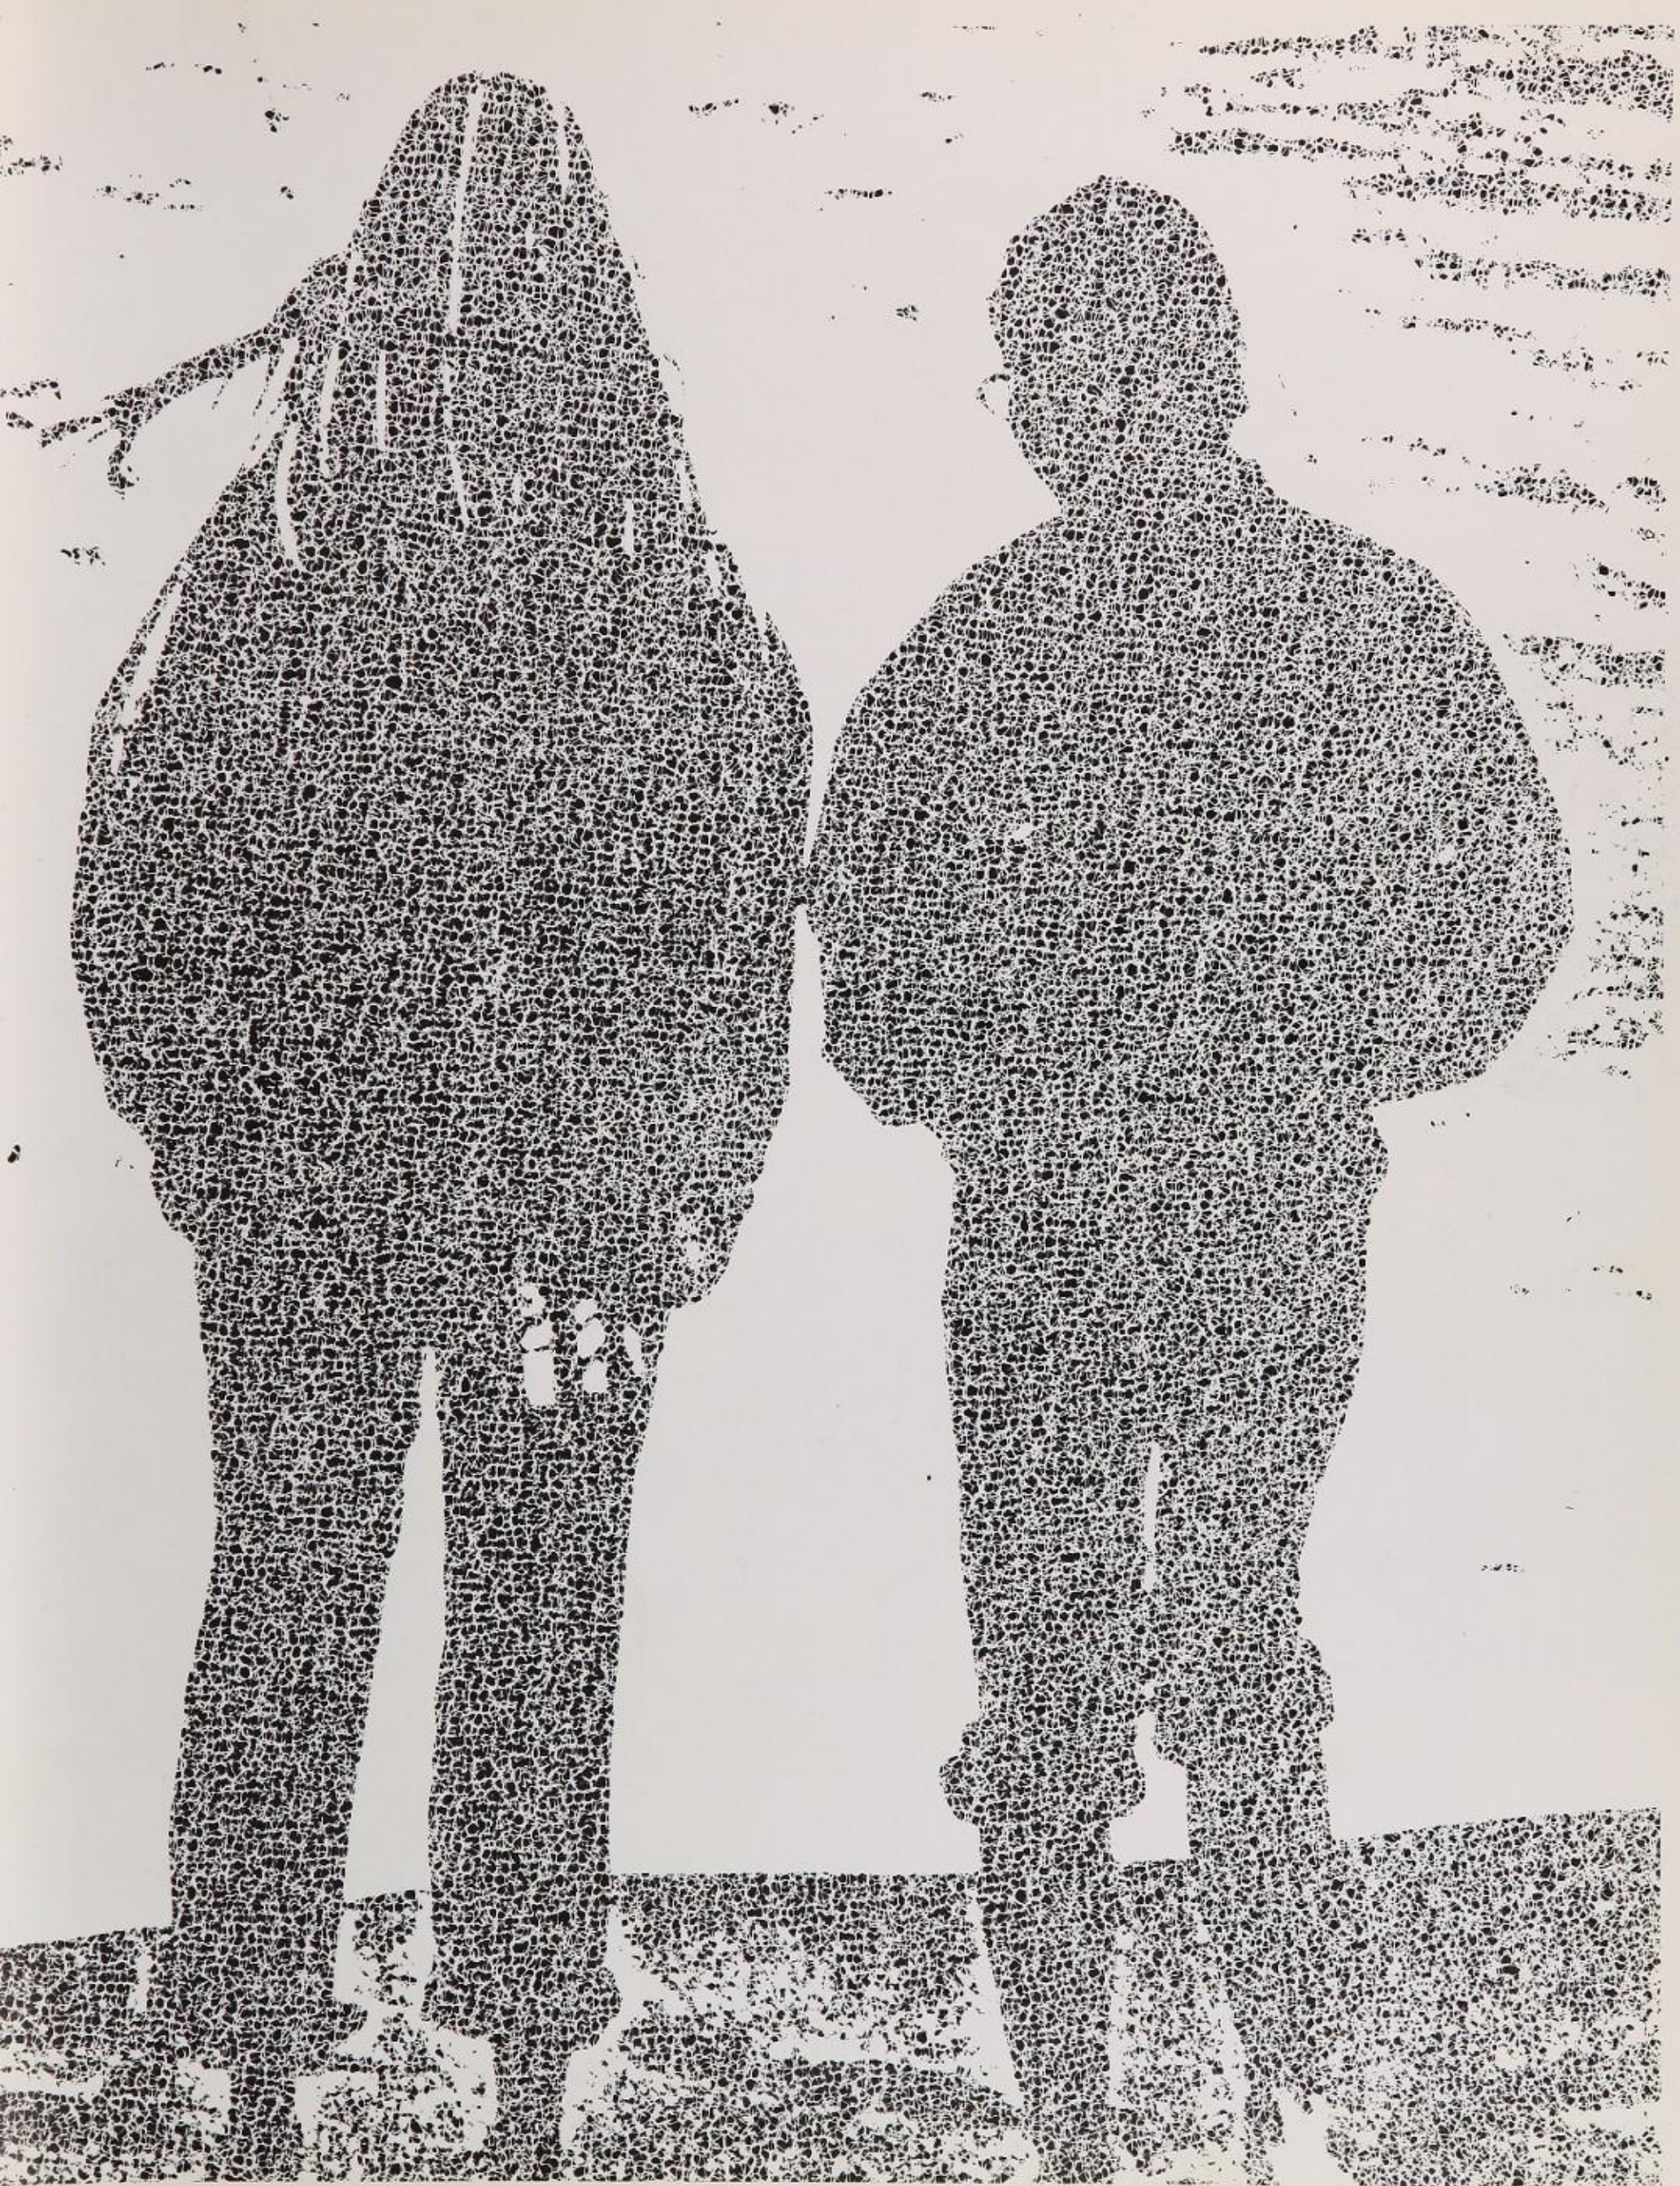

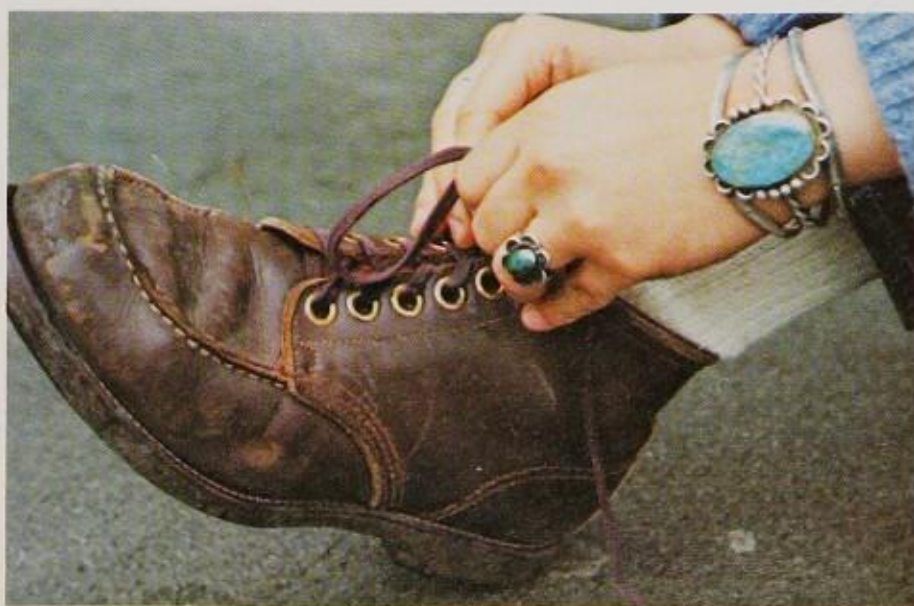

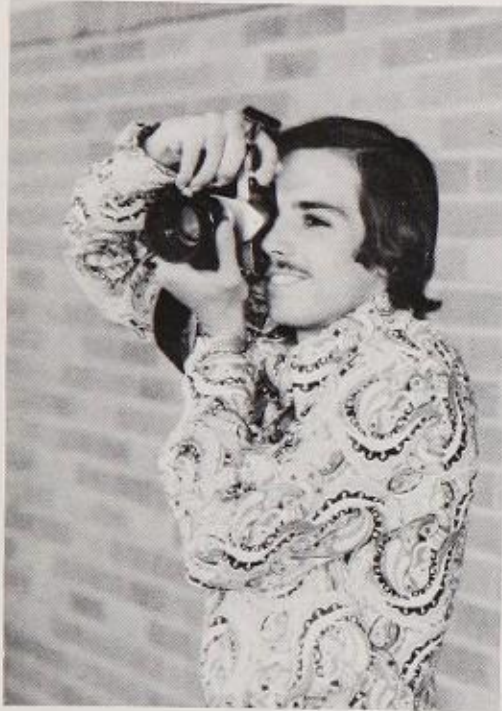

FASHION FADS ARE FUN BUT FRIENDSHIP WILL NEVER GO OUT OF STYLE.

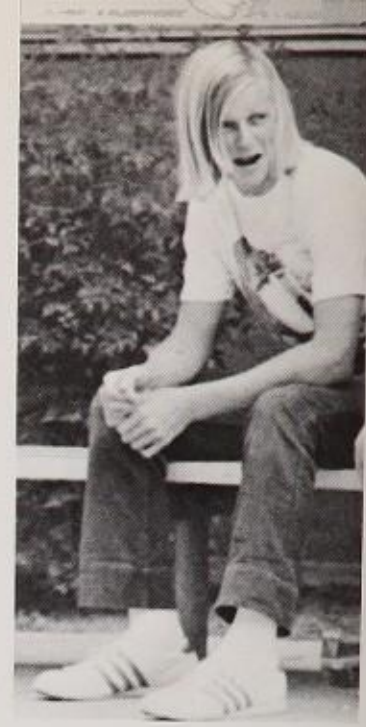

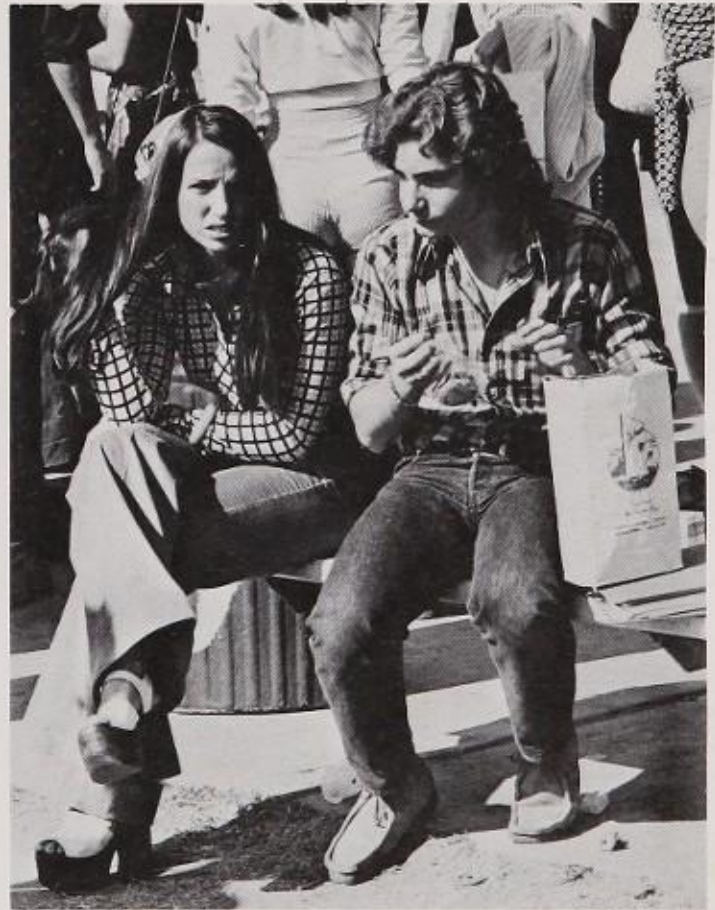

ROBERT MAWER

If you have ever noticed, Hami is a conglomeration of clothes, from funky patch jeans to super slick. The students have their own dress codes (such as it is) and wear as they please. This idea was totally different to about ten years ago when it was mandatory for guys to wear shirt and tie and girls to wear dresses. Today, this is all changed, the school cannot tell you what to wear to school. The result is freedom to wear what pleases you. This is what my photo essay is about, the way people dress as a search for individuality; to be the same or to be different. I showed this by either posing my subjects (victims) or by catching them off-guard. Then, by putting this together, I came up with my idea of how Hami students like myself, express themselves in regard to clothes during Hamilton 1974.

EKS-PRESH-UNS . . . Daniel Webster describes an expression as being "a showing of feeling, character, etc. For example-laughing is an expression of joy."

An expression is really important in conveying how a person feels at a certain time, just the type of mood he is in.

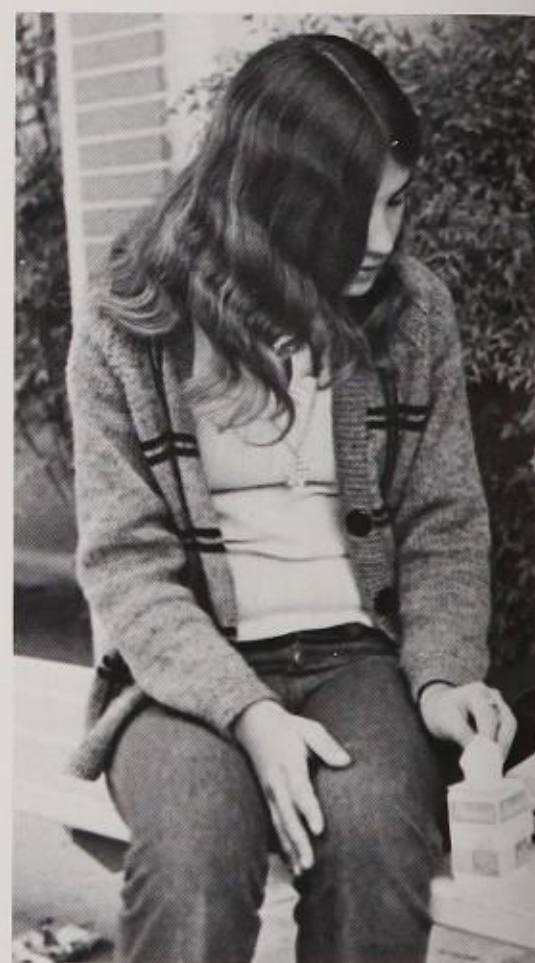

These pictures were done to try and show the moods or feelings of the people at Hamilton High.

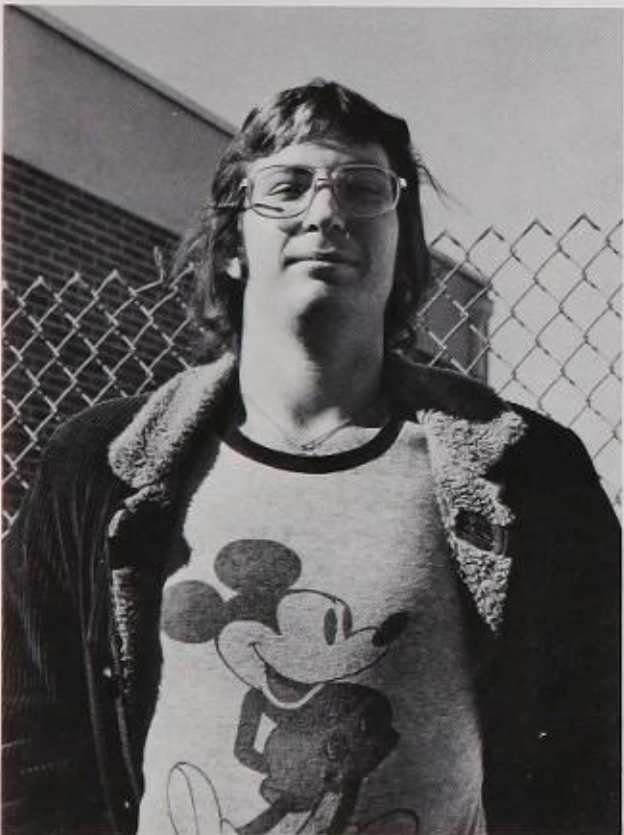

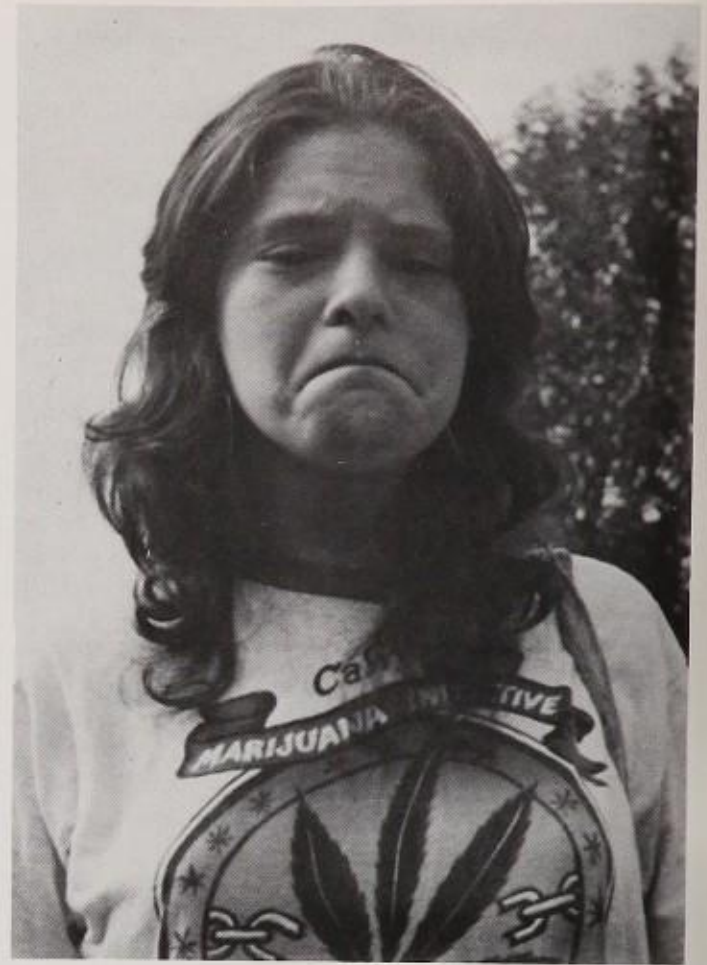

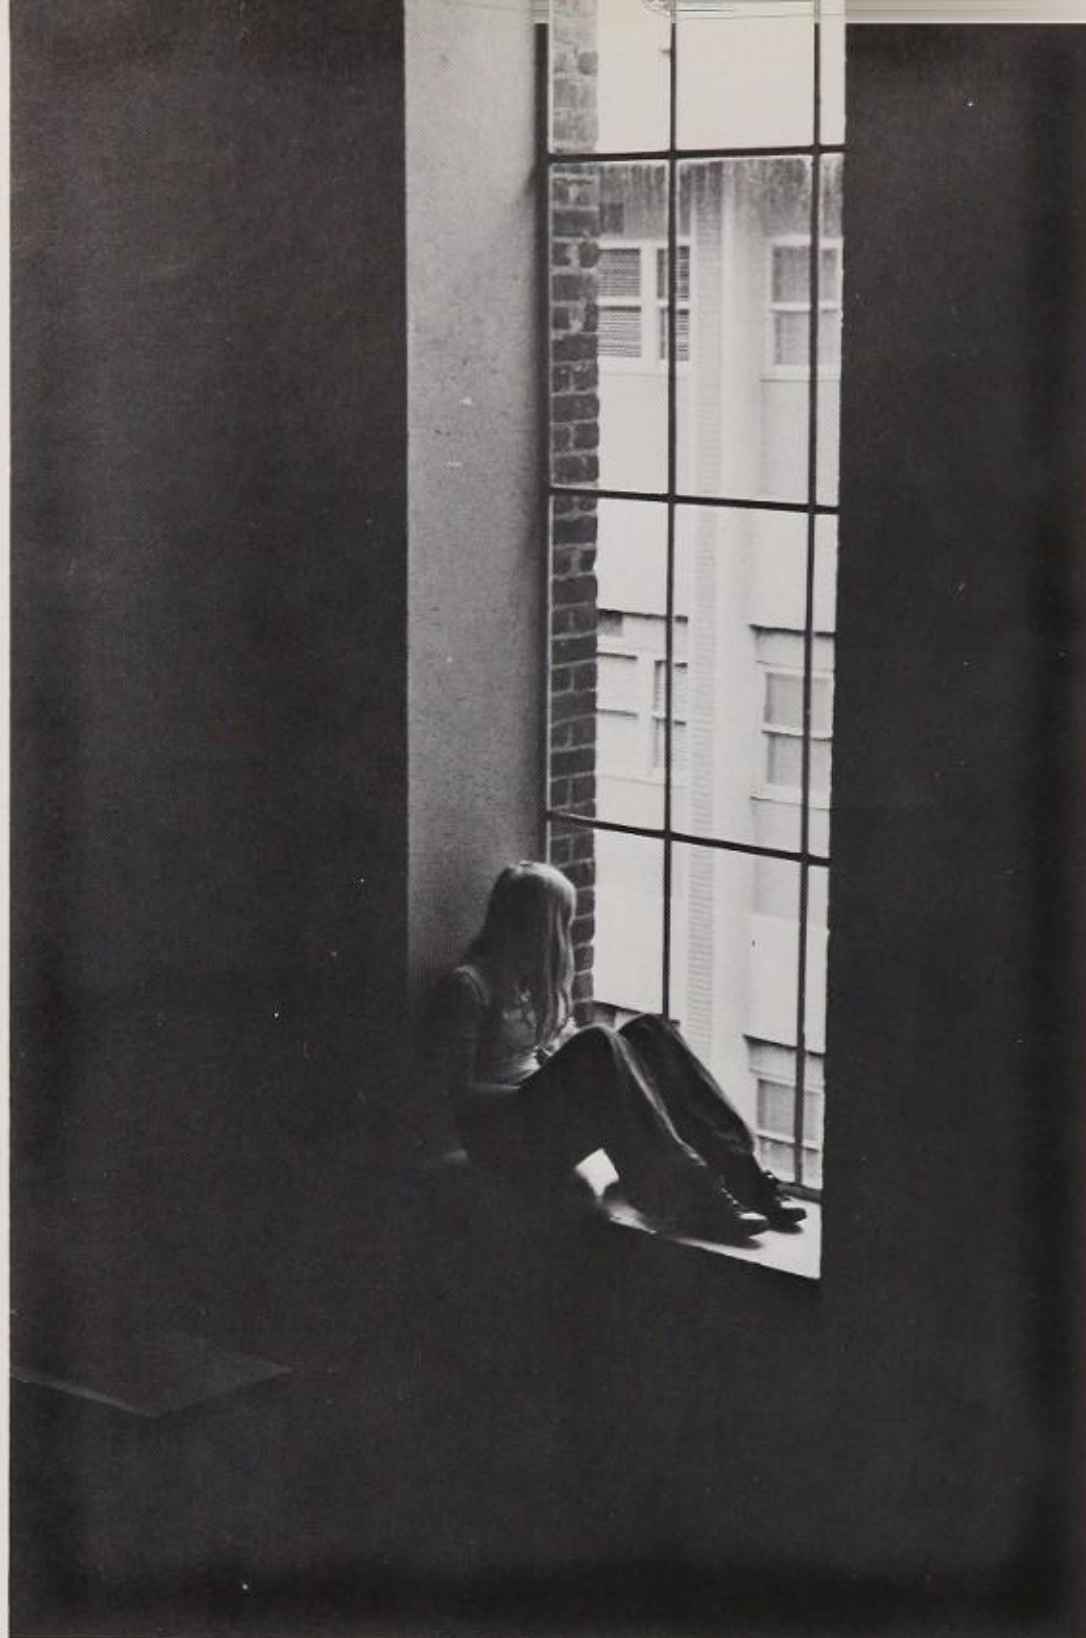

CHRISTY JEWELL

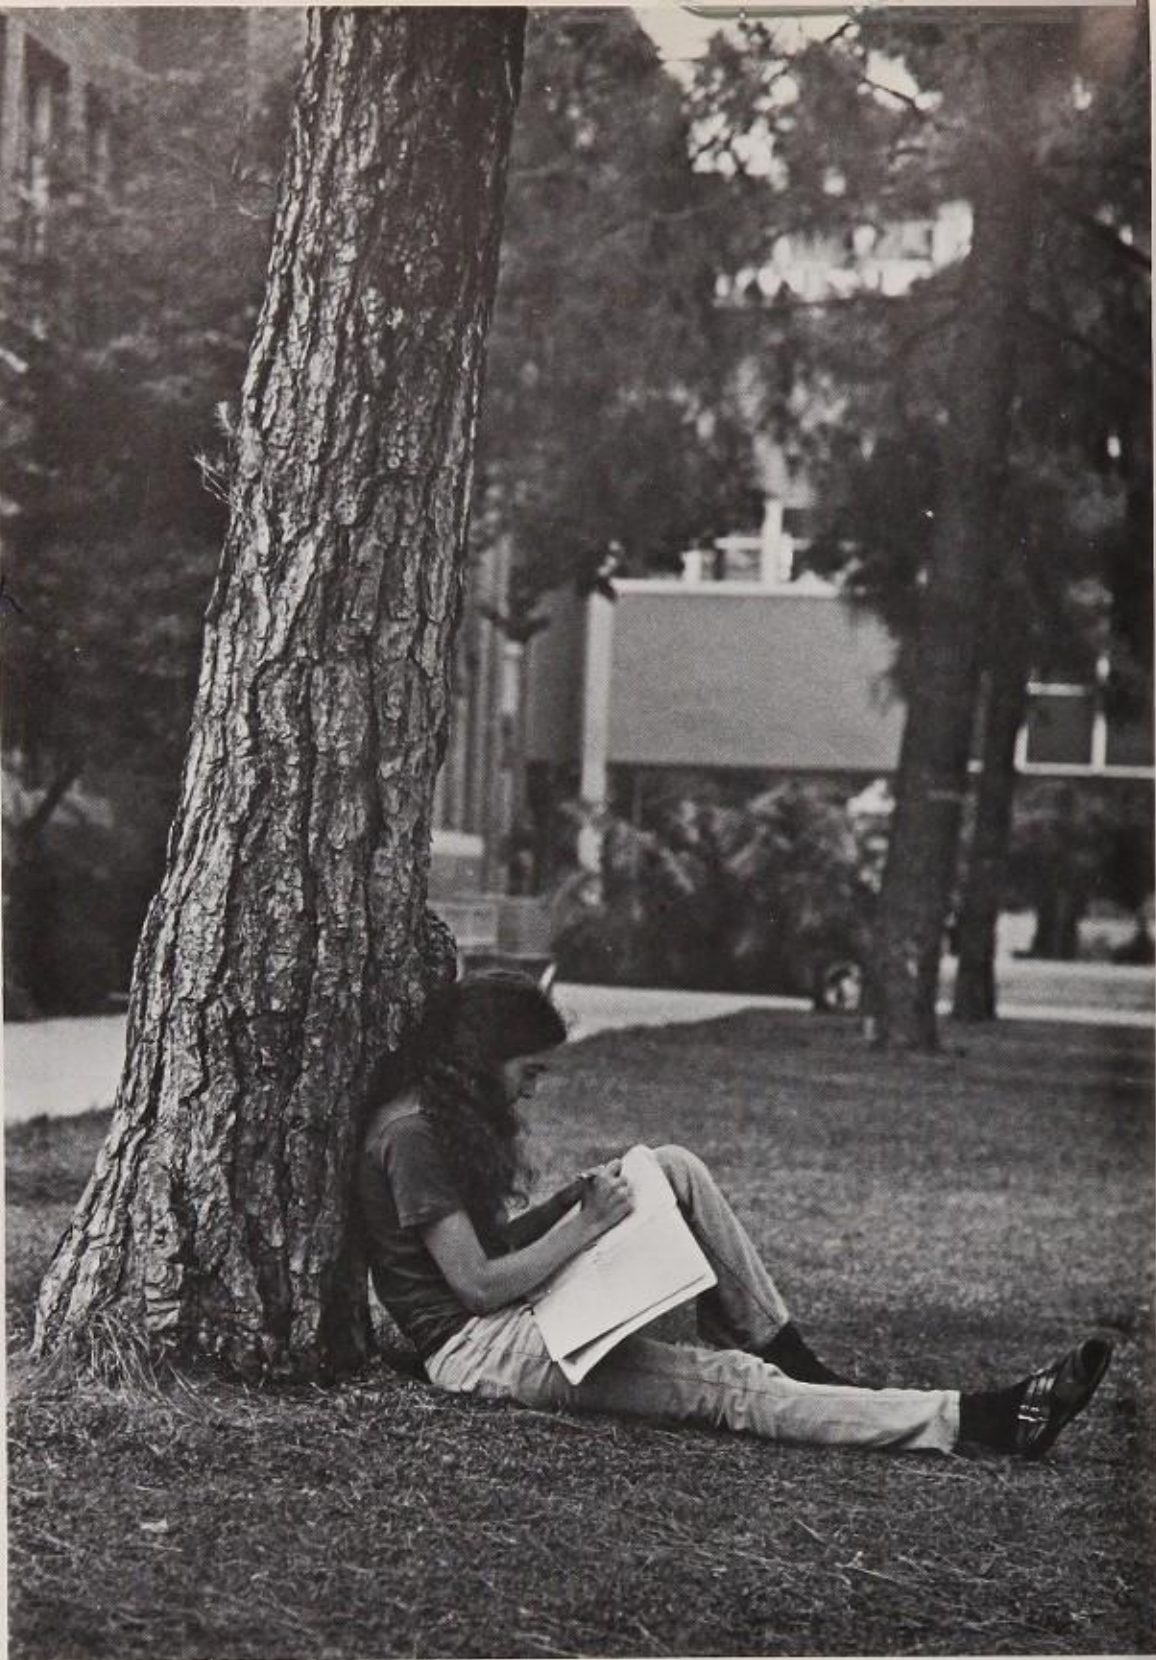

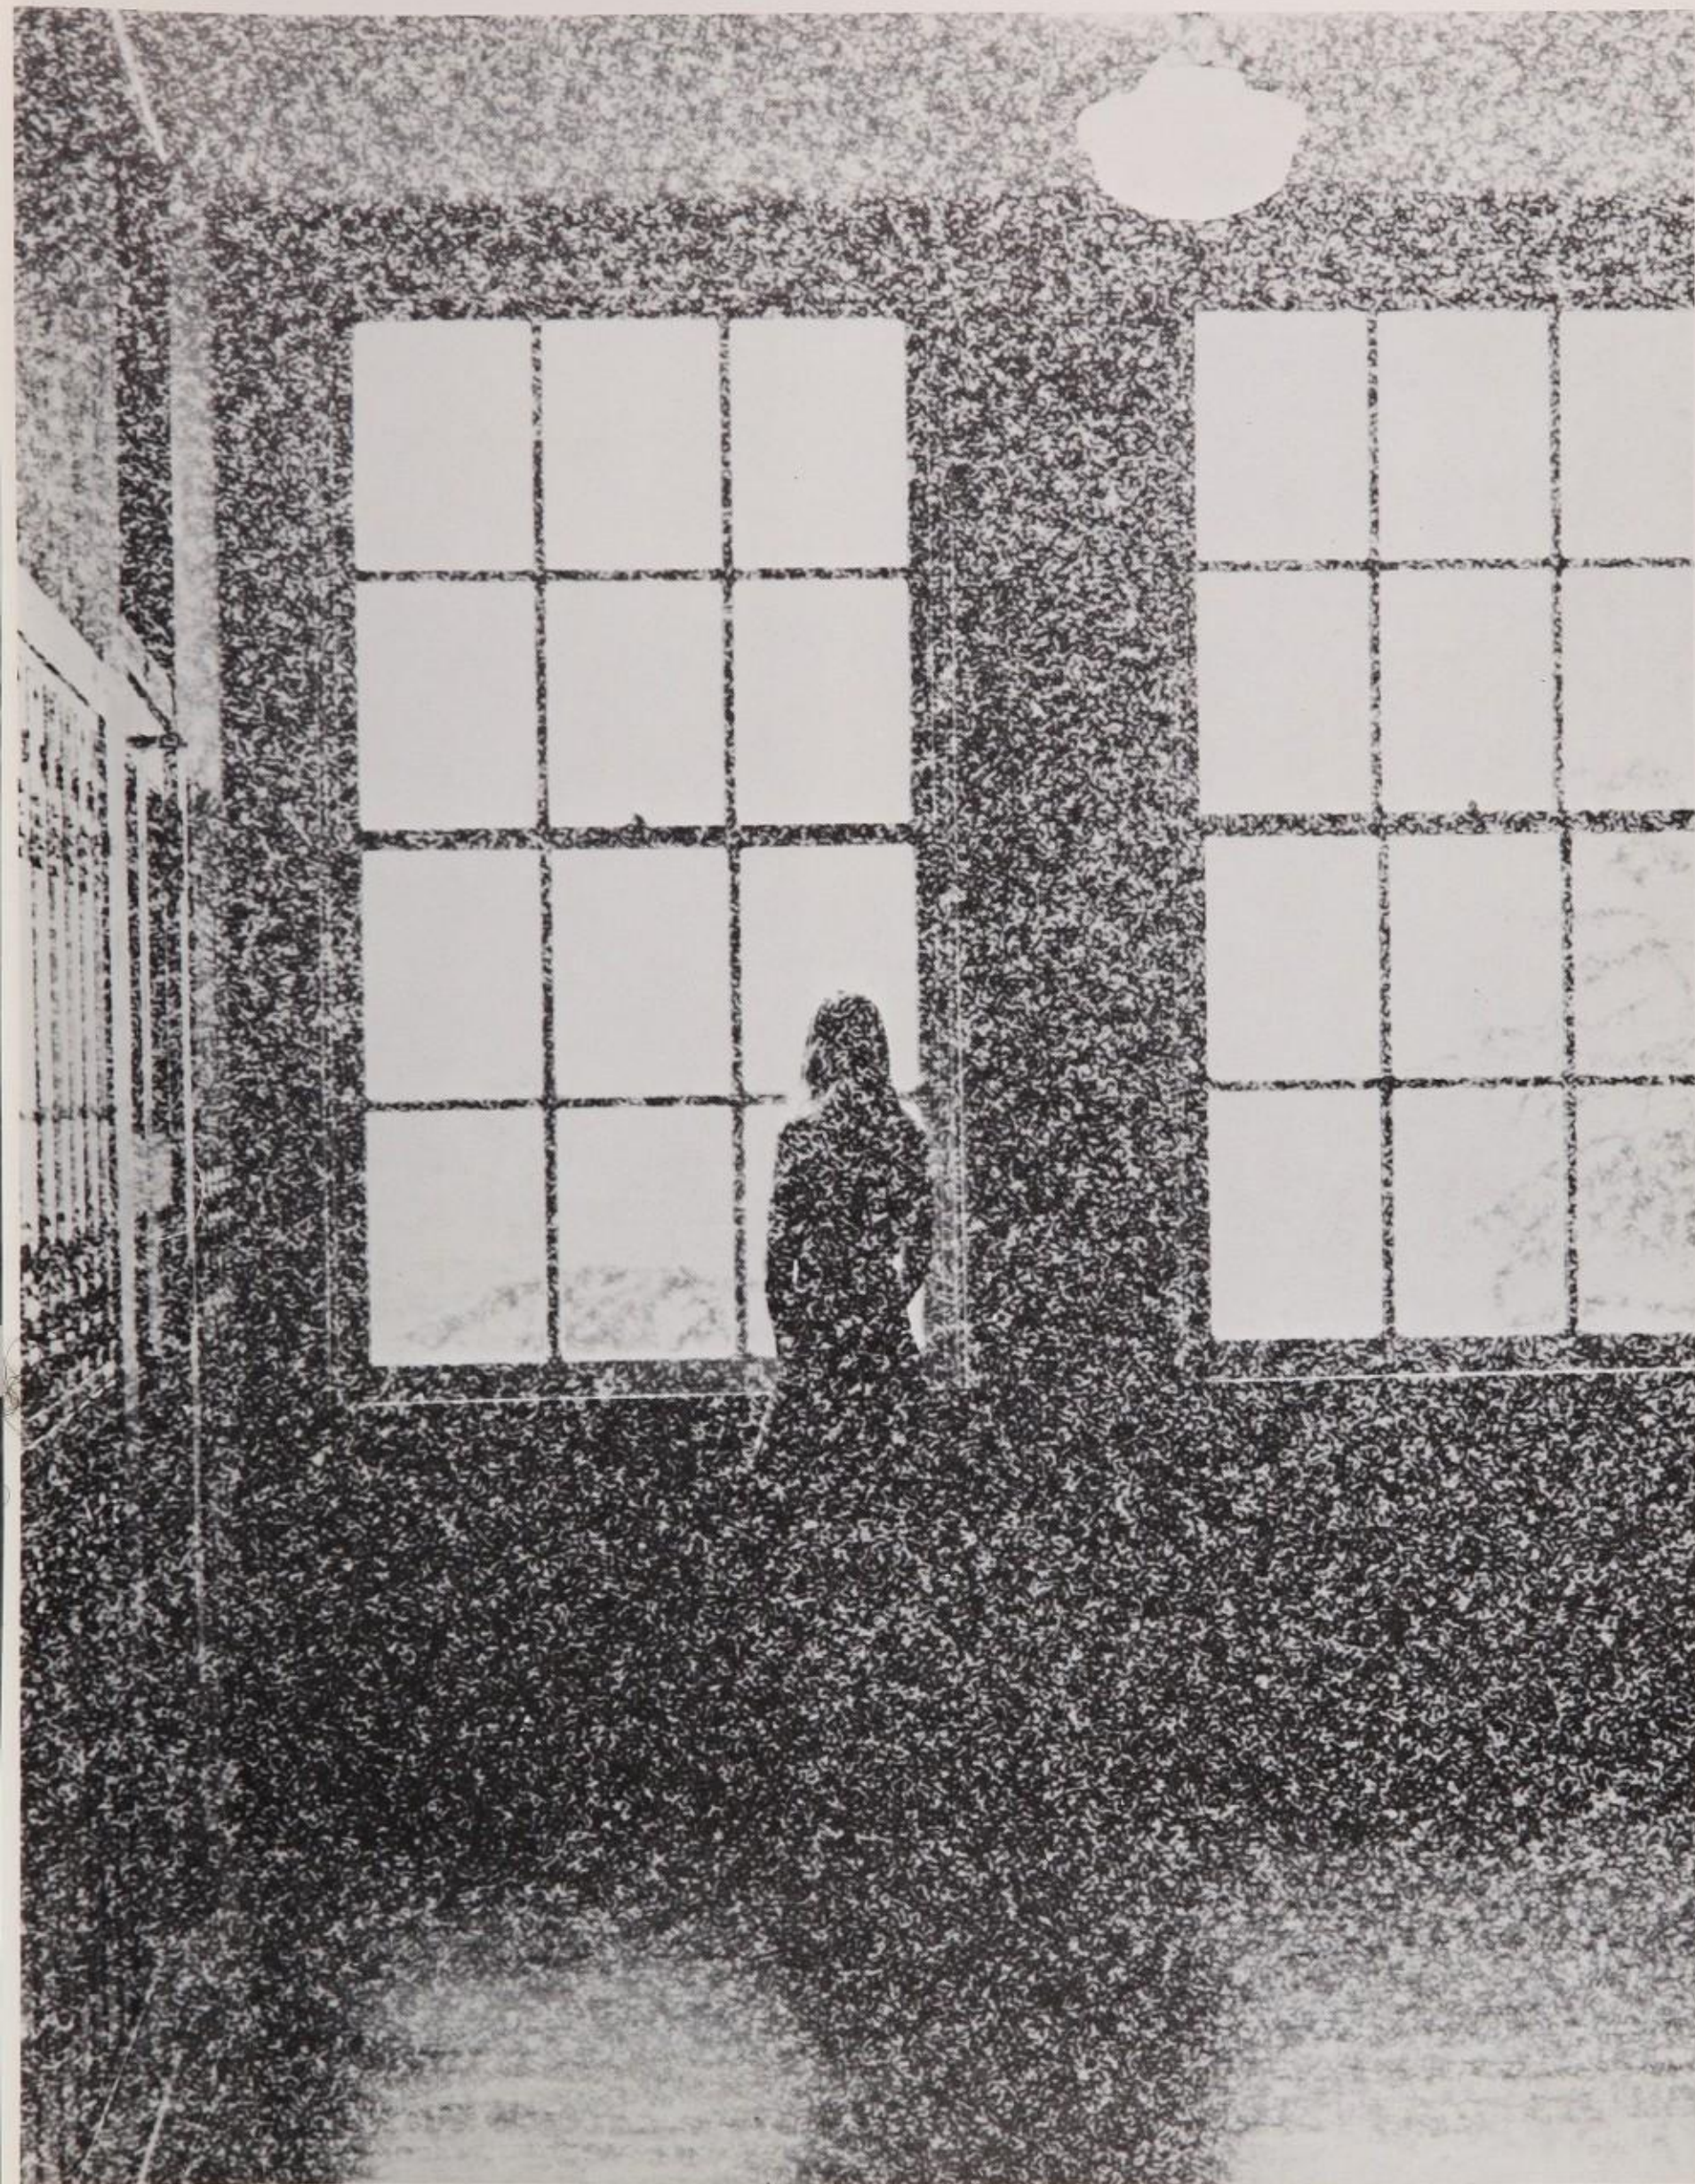

My idea for a photo essay was to catch the "few" moments of peace and tranquility during a school day at Hamilton High. Under a tree or walking alone in thought to a late class. Sometimes these "few" moments were so hard to catch as people achieve their own peace and tranquility individually in their own way. Hamilton in 1974 did have many tranquil moments and was a peaceful year.

Sam, I know, I hardly know you, you don't
 A very nice friend I used
 There was a time I used to have some feelings for you but, now it's questioning now, It's been real nice to have known you for just a year,
 Sure there were fun times,
 I'm not saying good-bye, but I know I'll probably be seeing you around, but I don't know for sure, but I wish you the best of luck in the future, you may not need it but, try to stay in touch. 291-863 until later Luv always

ARTHUR NORDON

"Hami is..." Those two words sum up the intent of my photo essay pretty well. Through photos, I hope to convey what Hamilton High school really was during 1973/74.

When it comes down to it, each individual student is a part of what Hami is. It stands to reason that one student may view Hamilton differently than another. This fact alone makes it unfair for one bias photographer to compile a group of his photos, taken around school, and call it "Hami is..." I have done two things to resolve this problem. First, I took suggestions from many different students on what they think "Hami is". Second, I tried to keep a loose format, shooting exactly what I saw.

The list to the right was the basis by which I shoot my photo essay. It consists of ideas which are serious as well as humorous. But more important, I feel, it consists of ideas that reflect what "Hami is..."

"Hami is..." is not a comparison to what Hami will be. It is a view of what Hami is today, looked at from many different eyes, points of view, and photographed by one.

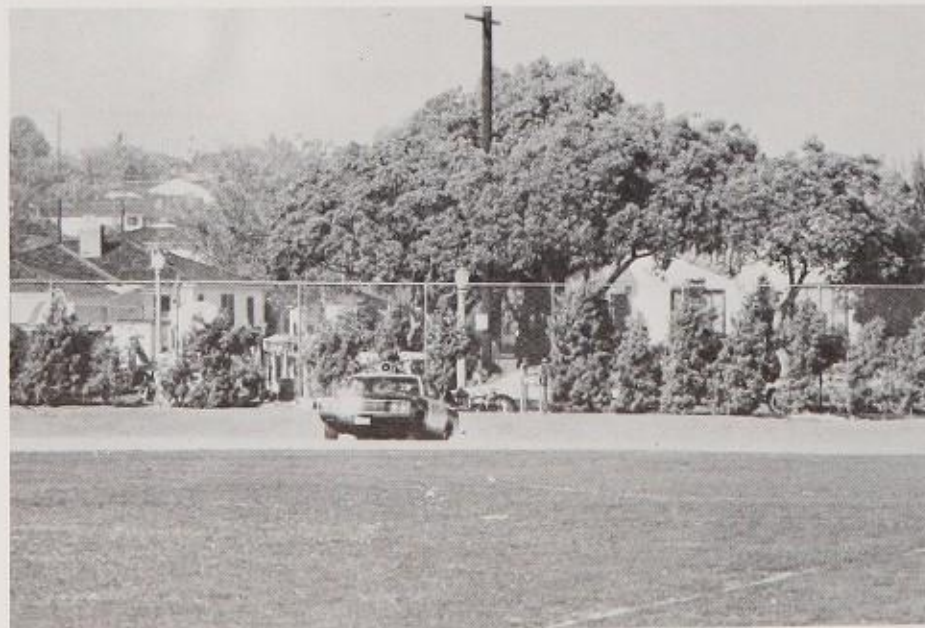

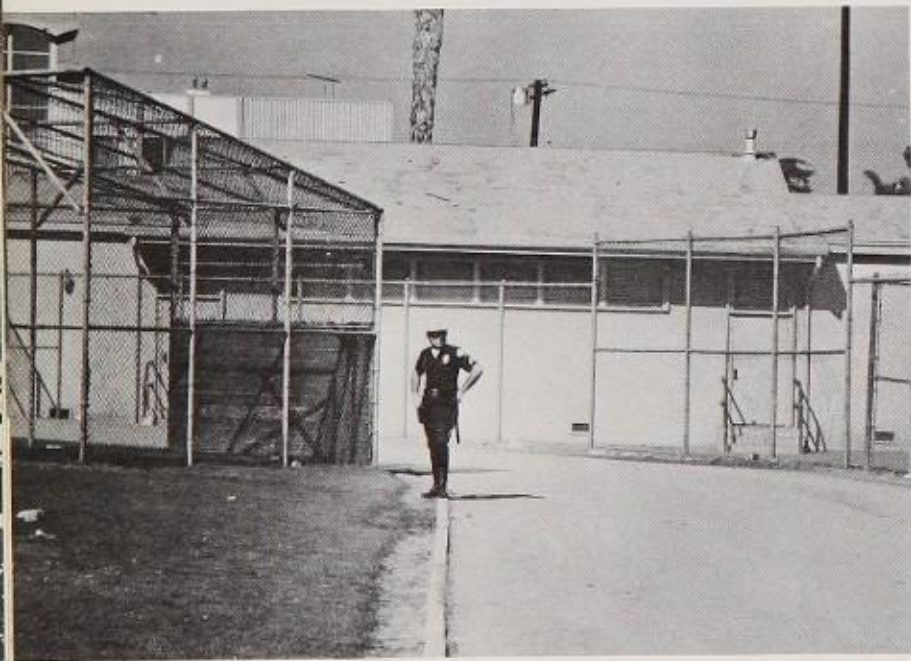

HAMI IS...

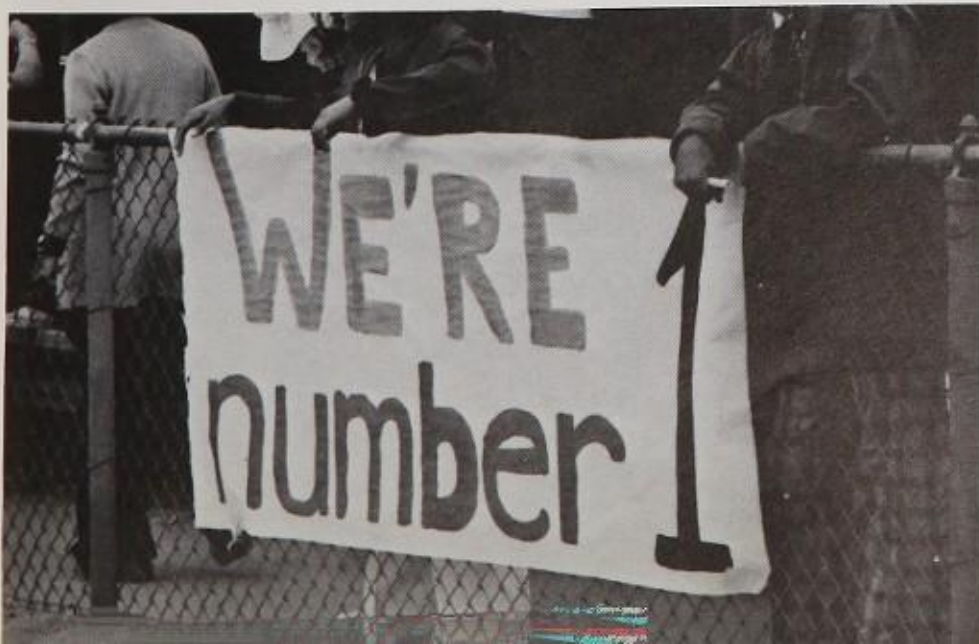

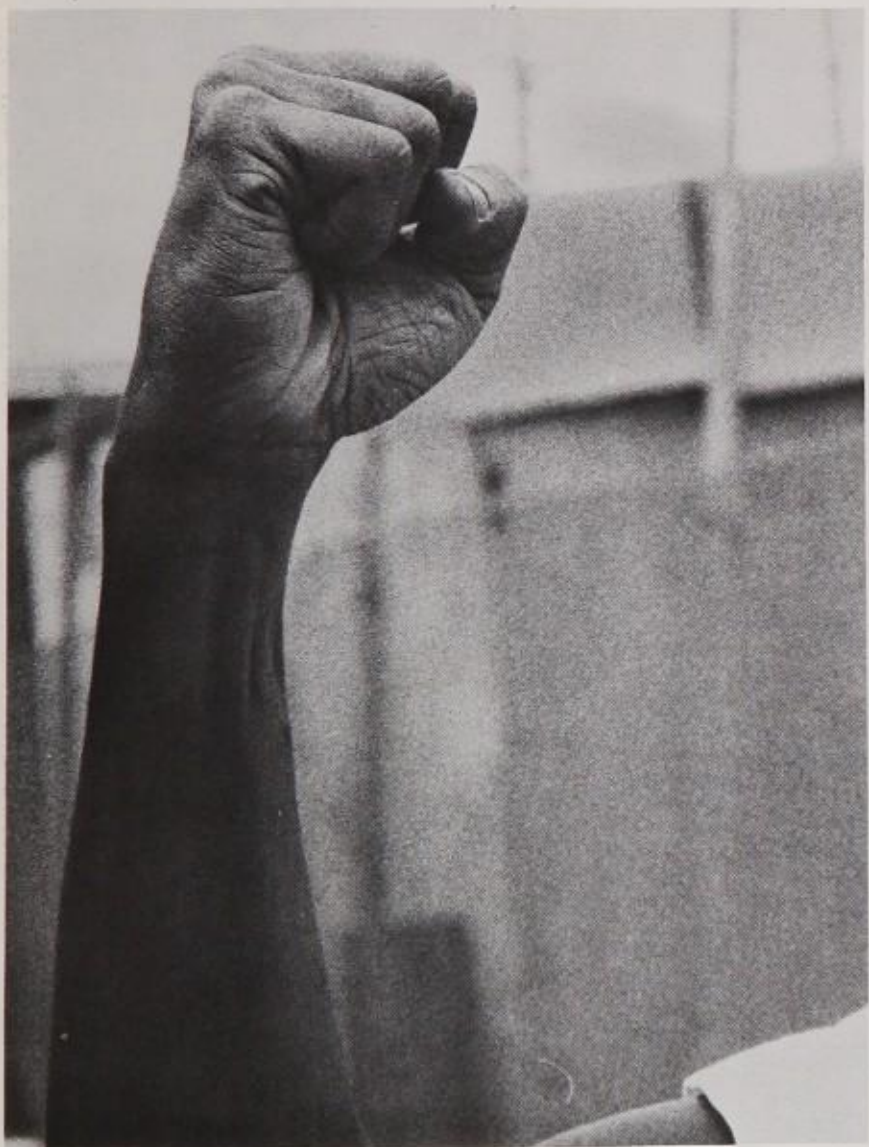

1. Missing the bus.
2. Hiding out from Mr. Nevels.
3. Frustration.
4. Total confusion.
5. Noise when you want quiet, and quiet when you feel like being loud.
6. Staying up late, getting up early, and sleeping through class.
7. Getting ripped-off by the apple machine.
8. Wanting to go to the bathroom, but being afraid to.
9. Being close friends with a teacher.
10. Sneaking a smoke in the bathroom.
11. The new tenth grader looking for the pool on top of the gym.
12. Sharing your locker with three other people.
13. Having a teacher who can not tell you and your brother apart.
14. Walking into the boy's bathroom and finding a girl.
15. Ditching class.
16. Having to have a pass to do anything.
17. Cheating on a test.
18. Pride... like whooping anyone who puts down the school.
19. UNPride... like throwing trash anywhere and everywhere.
20. Togetherness... like people working on for a positive goal.
21. UNTogherness... like people forming cliques and ostracizing others.
22. Everyone trying their best, in his or her own way.
23. A lot of work.
24. A preview of life.
25. Spending 45 minutes in the hash lines, and forgetting what you wanted.
26. Knowing that something is wrong, but doing it anyway.
27. Trying to get an education, inside a maze of locks, gates, cops, and steel bars.
28. Trying to find the best way to spend lunch and nutrition.
29. 2,200 students, trying to express themselves.
30. Having your head filled with knowledge, that you will never use.
31. Love and hate.
32. A winning football team.
33. Yours, mine, and ours.
34. Hallways full of hellos.
35. Sitting in class waiting for the next bell to ring.
36. Writing your own absence excuse.
37. The spirit of few, and the discontent of many.
38. A place where everyone is controlled by bells.
39. Being scared to eat the food, for fear of being poisoned.
40. A four letter word.
41. Going out to lunch.
42. Unique.
43. What the students make it.
44. Different people, from different backgrounds, all mixed-up together.
45. Enriching the mind, through travels from classroom to classroom.
46. Where seniors always say, "I'm leaving in June, it's too late for me to change anything."
47. Cold, except on hot days.
48. Loneliness.
49. Trying to sneak by the old lady guarding the halls.
50. A school.

THEATRE ARTS

Talent is something not everyone is born with. And if a person does not have it, he works for it. He strives for perfection and that is certainly true of the students who worked hard to put on a play worthy of recognition. This year's production of "The Sound of Music" brought fame to the Theatre Arts department of Hamilton High School. The combined efforts of Dr. William Teaford and Mr. Don Bondi proved to be outstanding. This twosome teamed up with many talented people to put on again the tradition of a great play.

The lights begin to dim, the music begins low and slow rises to a mellow sound. The audience is still, silent, waiting, not knowing what to expect. Then, suddenly it happens. The play has begun. Above are some of the photographs from this play.

The feats of the 1973 Yankee Football Team established a means of measurement or yardstick by which all Hamilton football teams, past and future, will be compared. The team's accomplishments, which are now a matter of record, make this year's gridiron edition the finest football team in Hamilton's athletic history, and one of the best Western League teams in recent years. Most of all, this season will remain a tribute to the tremendous effort, sacrifice and achievement of forty young men. Their legacy of excellence will certainly provide incentive and direction to all Hamilton teams in the years ahead.

Hamilton's Bee team wasn't so fortunate. All they have to talk about besides who messed up, was their only victory against the Crenshaw Cougars 14-12. In that game Edward Redd, Gary Ellis, and Ricky Grimes gained brief fame.

The other games were all defense strategy. Kevin Wilburn and Derrick Ford, both who had a total of 45 tackles and 36 assists each, added one of the only highlights to a losing season. Billy Yancy, Mark Pradia, Greg Youman, Gary Ellis, Darryl Irvin, Darryl Houston, Andrew Fields, Edward Redd, Derrick Smith aided in the Hami defense. Perhaps the blame could have been placed on the coaches, the tough opponents, or both with a combination of a lack of support from the students and an uninspired team.

VARSITY BASEBALL

ED. NOTE

Yearbook Staff regrets the lack of identification for Varsity Baseball. Good, quality, individual or group shots with proper identification and spelling are achieved only by cooperation by the coach of the particular sport. First, dates are set up for photos, then rosters are compiled. After the shots are taken, (usually we hope the coaches have everyone show or the players care enough to show). Yearbook Staff correctly identify's and types up copy. Finally photos are pasted in. The entire process takes an enormous amount of time, skill, and dedication. It is a difficult job with harassing deadlines. And at times we have admittedly been incompetent. In this particular case, unfortunately, there was a lack of enthusiasm, cooperation, and communication. We tried our best to do the job. Athlete's, please take any complaints to the point of origin if you are unhappy with coverage, to those people responsible. We care. In the future we hope the caring will be contagious both on a small scale where individuals are concerned and on a large school scale.

JEWISH STUDENT UNION

FRED BARTON, MARK BARTON, LOUIS DUSKIN

That futuristic looking fellow to the right is Robby the Robot, star of the cinema and television. Robby was first conceived by M-G-M studios and was used in their first science fiction spectacular, "Forbidden Planet". Robby has since been retired and is now an display at a motion picture prop museum in Buena Park. The robot you have seen about school is an exact duplicate of the original down to the millimeter. You might ask who would want to build such a thing and why? Well, Fred Barton, an eleventh grade student, wanted Robby ever since he first saw the movie when he was four years old. Not having the knowledge at that age to build a robot, he was forced to live without it. Twelve years later, at a science fiction convention in April 1973, he saw the robot there and decided to build him. He talked to his brother Mark, a Hamilton graduate and now a senior at UCLA, about the aspects of building him. Mark's first remarks were, "You're nuts! We don't know the first thing about it."

This wasn't going to stop Fred, so he called on his friend, Louis Duskin, from Palms Jr. High to help. Louis liked the idea and since Fred was going to try to build it himself, help or not, the three got together and started planning and learning what to do. Robby was two and a half months in planning and was budgeted at six hundred dollars. By the time the project was completed, the cost had doubled.

Robby was completely constructed by the three students, there was no outside help in any way. Every piece was hand sculpted out of clay or turned out of wood or plaster. From these pieces, molds were made out of plaster and then were fiber-glassed and resined, which was a hard and messy job. Many things were also thermoformed out of polystyrene and Uvex. Robby has been worked on steadily since July 1973.

Robby is now available for rent at parties and various other occasions. If you're planning a movie and you need that special prop, Robby is perfect for that also. Fred, Mark and Louis are going to try to use Robby for television commercials and just lots of fun. Robby is another example of how something can get done just from an idea and thousands of hours of hard work. Another example of Hamilton's ingenious, fiendish, perverted, hard-working, money-making . . . student body.

From yesterday . . . Tomorrow

What has been your home, who have been your friends, nothing will ever be the same again. The community of which you are now a part will soon turn in its own direction and begin anew.

Hamilton students have made up a large portion of our lives. We have experienced the most important times of our life together, and now, from these experiences, we will build the future.

We have learned to care about one another, expecting the same fulfillment everyday and the same joy of being with special friends. We look at each other and wonder who will succeed, who will realize his dreams, his goals, his expectations.

We will miss the warmth, the close family life at Hamilton especially those of us who are very close with one another. But now we must face a new and independent life - college for some, jobs for others. Now our paths must diverge, where the guidance will lessen and the utilization of our experiences will be the great necessity.

MILT BELFER

HAMI IS . . .

pine needles dripping after a rain and puddles carrying milk carton boats along currents on voyages of discovery to exotic ports-of-call . . .
loud laughing voices that rumble down the halls . . .
breathless students running to classes, always too late . . .
happy faces pushing and shoving each other on the lunch court . . . the faces of teachers going to class, some gloomy, some happy, each occupied with square roots or Gettysburg or Chaucer or Cabbages and Kings . . .
Cheerleaders performing the new "Rites of Spring" on the grassy fields of athletic endeavor . . .
lines of hungry faces in the hash lines, complaints about the Cafe food; hamburgers without ketchup . . .
the crashing silence of the library stirred only by inquiring eyes probing musty volumes for secrets of "forgotten lore" . . .

the anguished cries of failing an exam, the unrestrained joy of passing the same . . .
the spirit of a winning football team that infects all those who vicariously follow its victorious march . . .
the expectation of graduation, the joy of finishing school and being deliciously free . . .
the loneliness for friends and the chatter and gossip . . .
the aching goodbyes of school buddies, chums, the girl friend, the boy friend . . .
the realization that three years have suddenly swept by and now slip into the misty limbo of the past . . .
. . . but not forgotten memories of Hami High . . .
. . . when we were young . . .

TOMODACHI CLASS HISTORY

From the beginning anyone could tell that we were a class not to be reckoned with. We came to set a style. We were to be the Tomodachi's of 1974.

We began somewhat low keyed as 10th graders, but as the class enthusiasm swelled there was no stopping our momentum.

First, under the leadership of Jackie Leon, 10th grade president, we held the first successful See's Sucker Sale. Other classes were soon to follow our fine example.

The 10th grade snow trip was next. For one fun filled day the sophomores invaded Holiday Hill. Although the snowball fight with a rival school somewhat dampened our spirits, it was an exciting day to be long remembered.

The next semester Staci Frank became president and sponsored a roller skating party and a Sophomore vs. Junior basketball game. We lost the game, but our spirits were high and class spirit flourished. Summer came and went. Michael Mills took over the reigns as 11th grade president. He led the class in such activities as a Junior Ice Skating Party, a Snow Trip to Table Mountain, and a Bike Ride to Santa Monica Beach. The Powder Puff was an upset! The Junior girls won for the first time in many years. And horror also struck in the Hami aud as the movie, "House of Wax", was presented.

The most significant event of our junior year was the White Elephant Sale where the name, Tomodachi, and the color, Royal Blue, were announced.

All too quickly the months passed and we found ourselves to be seniors. We had watched two classes graduate and now it was our turn to be in the spotlight.

Our senior year was filled with adventure. With Laurie Strom as president we began by "carefully" painting everything royal blue; trash cans, walls, and ourselves alike. The senior sale of balloons, decals, and buttons announced to the school that Tomodachi's had arrived. And the world was to know it too as we met on Disneyland's Mark Twain to cheer, "We are the Tomodachi's!"

An Ice Skating Party, Faculty vs. Students volleyball game, picnic, and a 50's day and dance were among the various activities sponsored during the first semester.

We cannot forget our exciting football season as we reflect over the fall semester. Our varsity football team became Western League Champions. "Victory" was our cry as we met for a pizza party to celebrate our unbeaten season. Under the new administration of Harry Redd all of our final senior events took place. Outstanding seniors were acknowledged on Senior Recognition Night and Tomodachi talents were presented on Senior Day.

The Queen Mary was proud to welcome the Tomodachi Class aboard on May 3, 1974 when our prom was held. Then too, too quickly the time had come to say farewell to high school life. On June 20th, 1974 the Tomodachi Class assembled at Pauley Pavillion for commencement exercises. From commencement we rushed to our last activity together as a class, Grad Night.

To Miss Steinert and Mr. Bunning, 10th and 11th grade sponsors, and to Mrs. Tamraz, senior sponsor, we say THANKS FOR THE MEMORIES.

sammy
 what can I say to someone
 I so deeply admire We've been friends for the whole story of Hami. You can't imagine how glad I am to that I shared it with you. You know in all that you do. Keep in touch and take care. Love Always,
 Judi

Love between peoples
 Can come only after Love within persons.

To Sam
 you've picked on me for many years, you better watch it or Shepley will get you!

Love Always. 74

Have a Lori Jernberg great future!

To My Brother
 Sam
 lots of luck in whatever school you choose. hope its City though and we will be seeing lots of each other in the future but don't forget your little sis at Hami "74"
 Lots of love
 Eleanor

To Sam -
Well 3 yrs at Hawaii and now we'll be graduating soon. Lets go out and conquer the world or maybe lets jus' try for Los Angeles first.
You're really a nice person and I'll always remember you - Take care.
Best wishes.

To Sam
You are a very nice guy but you're going to have to stop riding the bus
Good luck

Joni
Jordan

Sam,
You are a very sweet young man. Play that way & good luck at whatever you want to do.
I hope you remember

Sam,

Oh Sam, we've been Friends a long time

It's been alot of Fun (and pain at times)

But there's alot of memories between all of us, so I'll Never forget you. And we'll Stay in touch!

Congratulations Love

Sam! We've been friends so so long! And some- Terry times I felt like dobbing you. (ii) Not really. You're just a crazy young man. But nice I hope I still see you, but if not I wish you all the luck in the world and have a GREAT EXCITIN' summer!
Boy, Love Hubli, 74

Sam,
It's been a long time, but I have enjoyed every minute. You're a great person and we must always keep in touch
Best wishes
Love Eileen

Oh Sam
a very nice, together young man (sometimes) (smile). Good luck in the future. Have a wonderful summer. Remember me always I am
